WATU WOTE MNAKARIBISHWA

Counseling ministry is very important in our ministry.

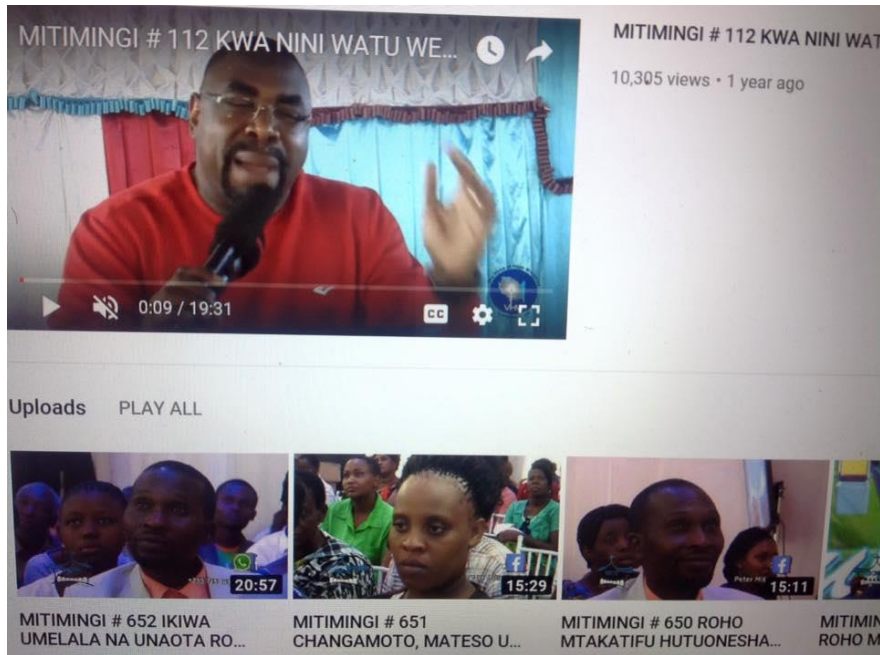

People have different challenges and they don't know what to do. In our ministry we use counseling ministry not only to help people come out from their challenges but also as a tool to do outreach to the lost.

Discipleship occurs all the time in the body of Christ, sometimes in the form of seeking the counsel of others. Sometimes, however, we dig ourselves into a really deep hole or get overwhelmed with difficulties and temptations to such an extent that we need regular, focused counseling sessions to get us back on our feet. Even this is not dishonorable or weird. It is noble, for it shows that a person is willing to turn to God's Word to help them to walk in victory.

The year 2018 we have train 200 counselors from different churches to help their people who are facing challenges in different places.

At Warehouse Christian Center we have a team of 40 counselors, through this team, we were able to attend 800 people who had different challenges and by God's grace many of them have been delivered from the challenges they were going through.
